“ A Poem for noble Naomi:

Though we need to weep your loss,
You dwell in that safe place in our hearts,
Where no storm or night or pain can reach you.

Your love was like the dawn
Brightening over our lives
Awakening beneath the dark
A further adventure of colour.

The sound of your voice
Found for us
A new music
That brightened everything.

Whatever you enfolded in your gaze
Quickened in the joy of its being;
You placed smiles like flowers
On the altar of the heart.
Your mind always sparkled
With wonder at things.

Though your days here were brief,
Your spirit was live, awake, complete.

We look towards each other no longer
From the old distance of our names;
Now you dwell inside the rhythm of breath,
As close to us as we are to ourselves.

Though we cannot see you with outward eyes,
We know our soul's gaze is upon your face,
Smiling back at us from within everything
To which we bring our best refinement.

Let us not look for you only in memory,
Where we would grow lonely without you.
You would want us to find you in presence,
Beside us when beauty brightens,
When kindness glows
And music echoes eternal tones.

When orchids brighten the earth,
Darkest winter has turned to spring;
May this dark grief flower with hope
In every heart that loves you.

May you continue to inspire us:

To enter each day with a generous heart.
To serve the call of courage and love
Until we see your beautiful face again
In that land where there is no more separation,
Where all tears will be wiped from our mind,
And where we will never lose you again.

“ I got to know Naomi during her stay at the Manor at Susquehanna Village where she and my mother were often table mates at meals. Her sweet manner and beautiful smile will be missed. I'll never forget the evening, after she had lost a lot of her verbal communication skill, when she sang in a sweet soprano voice several "old" hymns and didn't miss a word or a note. What a testimony of her faith! My sincere sympathy to her family and friends.

“ Naomi will always be remember as the great Aunt who was always full of energy, life and optimism. She brightened any room she entered. Our condolences to her family and friends.

“ Naomi was always there for anyone that needed anything. She never asked for anything for herself, a very gentle, caring, loving person, and that is how she will always be remembered.
